February (4-10)

Chicago began the shortened 50-game season with a new head coach, Tim Floyd, and returning starters Ron Harper and Toni Kukoc. The Bulls opened the season with a rematch of the 1997-98 NBA Finals at Utah on Feb. 5. The Jazz handed the Bulls their first defeat of the season, 104-96. In the next game, the Bulls rebounded to defeat the Los Angeles Clippers, 89-84. The Bulls hosted Atlanta in the home opener on February 9 and fell, 87-71, to the Hawks. The loss began a seven-game losing streak, including four defeats at home and three on the road. Chicago ended the skid on Feb. 22 in its second meeting against Atlanta, 77-68, for the Bulls' first United Center victory of the season. That game marked the second of three back-to-back contests. The Bulls dropped the next two and finished the month with back-to-back wins against Charlotte and Toronto. In the Feb. 28 win over the Raptors, Randy Brown hit the winning jumper with 0.2 seconds left in overtime for a 90-88 victory at the Air Canada Centre.

March (5-11)

After losing the first two games of the month by a combined total of 46 points, Chicago's losing streak continued at Milwaukee on March 8. The Bulls surrendered a fourth-quarter lead to fall to a 4-13 record, but came back to score 103 points in their win over New Jersey at the United Center on March 9. The Bulls split the next two games before defeating New Jersey, 104-95, on March 18 at the United Center for the team's third home win of the season. Chicago lost its next two games, including an overtime game vs. Cleveland and an unsuccessful comeback at Orlando. The Bulls returned home to face the New Jersey Nets for the second time and scored a season-high 104 points to take their seventh win of the season and fourth home win. The Bulls dropped five of their last seven games of the month, with wins against Boston and Philadelphia. Injuries affected the Bulls' roster in the last five games: leading scorer Kukoc missed three of the last four games of the month, and Brown was out for the last two.

April (3-14)

April proved to be the toughest month for Chicago, as the team set club and NBA lows. After back-to-back losses to Detroit and Orlando, the Magic handed the Bulls their worst loss in team history (47-point margin), 115-68, at the United Center on April 2. The Bulls rebounded with a win at home against the Grizzlies on April 4, but dropped their next seven games, tying their longest losing streak of the season. In the midst of the losing streak, the Bulls were held to an all-time NBA-low 49 points in an 82-49 loss to Miami on April 10. The 83-77 loss at Washington on April 16 eliminated the Bulls from the NBA Playoffs, marking the first time in 15 years that Chicago failed to qualify. The Bulls ended their seven-game skid with consecutive home wins over Milwaukee on April 18 and Washington on April 23. However, Chicago dropped the next five games, including four road contests, bringing its road losing streak to 12, which tied the club record set in 1985.

May (1-2)

The Bulls ended their 12-game road losing streak, defeating the Eastern Conference champion Miami Heat with a 101-86 victory. Harper scored 25 points in the second half to lead the Bulls in the upset. Chicago closed out the 1998-99 season with two home losses against playoff-bound Detroit and Orlando. At halftime of the final game of the season, the Bulls honored former Head Coach Phil Jackson with a ceremony. Chicago finished the season with a 13-37 record (home: 8-17; road: 5-20).

*"He succeeded so often because attempting that game-deciding shot, pulling out the victory
when it was so in doubt, was what Jordan was all about.*

'Best there ever was, best there ever will be'

reads the inscription on Jordan's statue outside the United Center, erected there in 1994 during his first retirement. The words were perfect, describing a superstar who defined basketball for an entire decade."

At that moment I knew,

surely and clearly,

that I was witnessing perfection.

He stood before us,

suspended above the earth,

free from all its laws

like a work of art.

And I knew,

just as surely and clearly,

that life is not a work of art and that the moment

could not last.

Victories come in many sizes.

Sure, there are some larger-than-life individuals on the Chicago Bulls.
But our team also includes our non-profit foundation, CharitaBulls, and the thousands of Chicagoland children it helps.

We built the James Jordan Boys and Girls Club to give neighborhood kids a place to play and learn. And it's only one of hundreds of organizations we help through donations, appearances and programs.

Because we're not just the Bulls. We're the Chicago Bulls. And proud of it.

The NBA believes in championship performances, both on the court and in the community. That's why each year, the league, its teams and players dedicate time and resources to helping their respective communities through extensive outreach programs, team foundations and public service announcements – all addressing a variety of important social issues.

This year, the league will continue to focus on serving the needs and recognizing the accomplishments of young people through a series of initiatives that focus on issues such as volunteerism, youth literacy, child abuse prevention and sportsmanship.

Now in its fourth year, the NBA TeamUp Program aims to build self-esteem and leadership skills by encouraging students to volunteer to improve their communities. With the involvement of all 29 NBA teams, the initiative has provided more than 100,000 youth with service opportunities and has recognized more than 40,000 for their outstanding dedication to volunteerism. The league and its players also generate awareness for the issue through a public service campaign and television specials that reach tens of millions of viewers each year.

The NBA continues to demonstrate its commitment to youth service through a partnership with America's Promise – The Alliance For Youth, led by General Colin Powell. This year, the NBA also joined forces with Youth Service America, a resource center and alliance of organizations committed to community and national service.

In 1995, the NBA partnered with Reading Is Fundamental (RIF), the leading nonprofit youth literacy organization in the United States, to ensure that today's young people have the necessary resources to become successful readers. This year's outreach will include the continuation of the successful "March is NBA Reading Month" campaign, which includes reading incentive programs, reading "Timeouts" with NBA players and staff, and book distributions. A series of PSAs featuring NBA players, and focusing on the fun and fundamentals of reading, supports the initiative.

Implemented in conjunction with the National Federation of State High Schools Associations and the Canadian School Sports Federation, the NBA/WNBA Sportsmanship Initiative aims to foster on-court sportsmanship in amateur and professional basketball competition. The program includes the NBA and WNBA Sportsmanship Awards; a certificate program that rewards high school athletes and coaches who demonstrate sportsmanship; and a public service campaign featuring NBA and WNBA players.

In addition, the NBA supports the efforts of Prevent Child Abuse America, the Martin Luther King Jr. holiday, Black History Month, Gallaudet University and the Thurgood Marshall Scholarship Fund.

winning is like a dream. giving back makes it real.

Chicago is a wonderful place for the Bulls to play. But we want to help make this strong city an even better and safer place for thousands of children to play. The Chicago Bulls take great pride in playing an active part in our community. We derive exceptional support, strength and motivation from our devoted fans and the city of Chicago. It's both our responsibility, and our pleasure, to give back to our hometown.

Our commitment to Chicago is to be actively involved in programs that improve the quality of life in the metropolitan area. All of us at the Chicago Bulls are proud of the leadership role that we've taken to help make Chicago a better place to learn, work and live. Through financial support, in-kind services, numerous community programs and the personal involvement of our players, coaches and the entire organization, we're reaching out to Chicagoans every day.

We're committed to Chicago. And through our dedication to community service, we're doing our best to make a difference.

Since 1987, we've been reaching out to thousands of Chicagoans through our nonprofit organization, CharitaBulls. Created as a vehicle for the Bulls to say "thanks" and give something back to our fans and the community, this organization raises funds for a variety of ongoing, worthy causes. Our primary objective: to create positive educational and recreational opportunities for children and young people — because the future, for all of us, is in their hands.

Bulls Scholars/Chicago Public Schools

In November 1998, CharitaBulls announced a $3.5 million donation over three years to the Chicago Public Schools to establish the Bulls Scholars Program in all 25 public middle schools. Bulls Scholars is a competitive, after-school instructional program designed to provide Chicago's 6th, 7th and 8th graders with the skills they need to succeed academically and personally. Each year, about 1,000 students receive added instruction in algebra and English from two middle school teachers and a certified high school teacher. CharitaBulls' donation funds teaching personnel, instructional texts, materials and five computers per middle school. In addition to funding, and as an integral partner in this undertaking, the Bulls provide speakers, tickets and special events for the participating students. Through the Bulls Scholars' initiative, the Bulls hope to address the critical issue of preparing middle school students for high school.

James Jordan Boys & Girls Club and Family Life Center

CharitaBulls donated $4.5 million in 1994 to build this 40,000-square-foot, two-story, youth and family development center named in memory of James Jordan, Michael Jordan's father. Opened in 1996, the James Jordan Boys & Girls Club features a computer center, art studio, science lab, gym, daycare center, dance and game room, classrooms and more. Located just two blocks from the United Center on Chicago's Near West Side, the Club is a unit of the highly successful Boys & Girls Clubs of Chicago. It annually serves 2,500 neighborhood children and their families.

City Year

In 1997, CharitaBulls formed a partnership with City Year Chicago, a national youth service organization. This group gathers young people ages 17-21 from diverse backgrounds for a challenging year of full-time community service, leadership development and civic engagement. The Bulls charity donated $55,000 to City Year's Young Heroes Program, which invites 80 middle school students from different schools in the West, North and South Side communities to participate in 16 fun- and lesson-filled Saturdays. The emphasis is on direct community service and formal leadership development training, so that the young people will learn the value of teamwork, tolerance and commitment. In 1998, CharitaBulls pledged an additional $120,000 to sponsor the program through 2001.

Special Olympics Illinois State Basketball Tournaments

CharitaBulls annually donates $30,000 to help fund eight district and two state basketball tournaments for Special Olympics Illinois. As co-sponsor of the tournaments since 1991, we're proud to help enrich the lives of more than 2,800 athletes in Illinois that compete each year.

Chicago Park District Programs

In the early 1990s, CharitaBulls donated $1 million over five years to repair and refurbish 140 damaged city basketball courts through the Chicago Park District/CharitaBulls Basketball Court Renovation Program. In 1995, we donated $375,000 to form the Chicago Bulls/Chicago Park District Late-Nite Basketball League, which will be in operation until at least 2000. The League operates at 11 sites throughout Chicago parks and attracts more than 800 players ages 18-26. In 1999 CharitaBulls announced a $110,000 grant to form the Chicago Bulls/Chicago Park District Women's Late-Nite Basketball League, which tipped off in June of the same year.

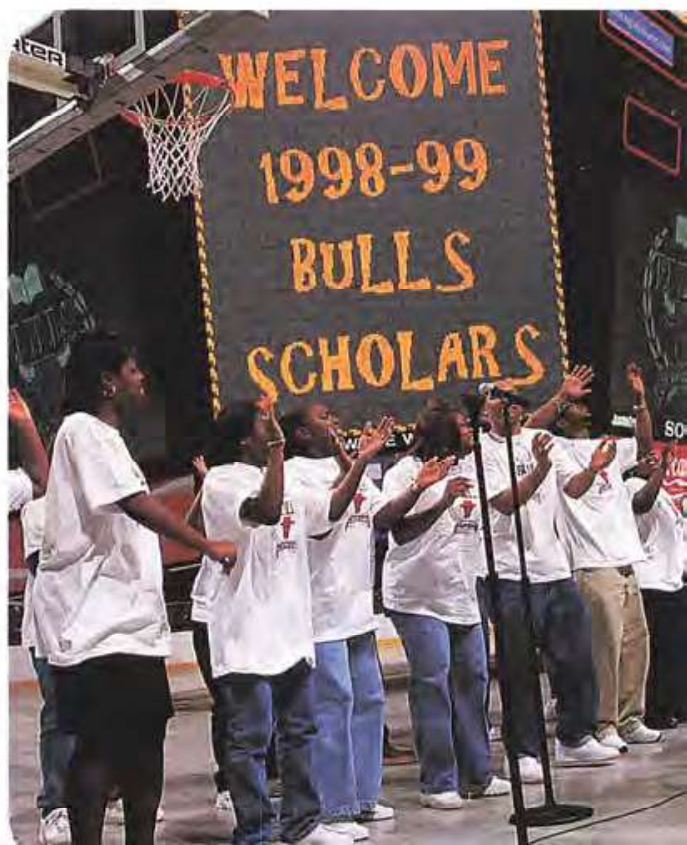

Chicago Public Library System

In 1994, we joined with the Chicago Public Library System to support the Mabel Manning Branch Library, located just two blocks from the United Center. CharitaBulls "adopted" the newly-built library and contributed $50,000 to furnish its "Computer Court," a tech center with IBM and Macintosh personal computers, printers and software for use by library patrons. In 1998, we pledged an additional $50,000 to upgrade the Computer Court's hardware and software and to hire a part-time computer tutor.

charitaBulls fundraising gets it done.

Our foundation is primarily supported through funds raised at the following successful annual events:

- The Annual Tip-Off Luncheon. Nearly 1,400 fans attend this preseason banquet to see the team and get an insider's look at the upcoming year.
- FestaBulls. More than 500 fans join Bulls players, coaches, announcers and staff for dinner and both live and silent auctions of sports memorabilia. We annually raise nearly $260,000.
- Shoot-the-Bull 3 on 3 Classic™. Begun in 1989, Shoot-the-Bull is now the nation's largest amateur basketball tournament. It attracts more than 10,000 men and women of all ages and skill levels who compete in 3 on 3 street basketball, slam dunk and free throw contests, and a kids clinic hosted by Bulls players and coaches. Money raised from team entry fees and contest donations goes to CharitaBulls and Special Olympics Illinois. More than $2 million has been raised.
- 50/50 Raffle. Introduced during the 1996-97 season, the raffle has raised $580,000 for CharitaBulls over the last three seasons. Raffle tickets are sold at each home game. In the fourth quarter, a lucky winner takes home 50 percent of the net earnings from that evening's ticket sales. The other 50 percent benefits CharitaBulls.
- Corporate Sponsor Program and more. We also raise funds through in-arena auctions, personal scoreboard messages ($100 donation) and in-game gift packages ($500), private donations, the sale of Michael Jordan statue maquettes, United Center tours, a memorabilia auction, and the CharitaBulls Corporate Sponsor Program, whereby sponsors contribute money based on the number of Bulls' victories, dunks, free throws, blocked shots, points, steals, rebounds and assists made by the team.

getting an education is ... SCHOOL PROGRAMS a win-win situation

We can't say it enough: getting kids to stay in school is one of the most important challenges we face today. The Chicago Bulls have made it a priority to create and fund programs to encourage and reward students — especially at-risk youth who may feel pressured to drop out. We all benefit, as a city and as a nation, if our children are motivated to stay in — and succeed in — school.

Stay in School

The NBA's nationally acclaimed Stay in School program was created in 1989 to address the critical issue of high school dropouts. A joint effort of the NBA and the National Basketball Players Association, the program includes several national and local elements designed to deliver the Stay in School message to all students, but particularly to those at the middle school level. The Bulls have an active Stay in School program that aims to reduce the dropout rate and to encourage students, among other things, to achieve perfect attendance. Student incentives include certificates of achievement, tickets to Bulls games, Bulls player visits and the chance to attend the Bulls' Annual Stay in School Jam.

Scholarships

Each season, the Bulls and CharitaBulls offer four $2,000 scholarships to area high school seniors who plan to attend college. Scholarships are awarded on the basis of academic achievement, extracurricular activities and the contents of an essay. Additionally, we annually provide, through the United Center Joint Venture, $20,000 in scholarships to Malcolm X College students. The Bulls also offer the Chicago Bulls Minority Scholarship at Ohio University for a minority graduate student majoring in the Sports Administration and Facility Management Program.

Adopt-A-School

We know that positive reinforcement, recognition and role models are all important tools to motivate students. With that in mind, we annually adopt a Chicago Public School. We help encourage students to set and achieve educational goals. Incentives such as Bulls game tickets, guest speakers, autographed memorabilia, arena tours and Bulls souvenirs spur them on to meet goals such as good attendance, grade improvement and positive attitude. In 1999, CharitaBulls donated $17,000 to William Brown Elementary School (a West Side school currently adopted by the Bulls) to partially fund a computer center at the school.

Art Contest

To encourage creativity and interest in the arts, we annually host an art contest. Students in grades one through six in Lake, Cook, Will and DuPage counties are invited to draw or paint any scene depicting Bulls basketball, using either the Bulls' logo or the words "Chicago Bulls." Winning entries appear in the Bulls' magazine, game program and yearbook.

Newspaper in Education Programs

We host annual programs, in conjunction with local newspapers to promote newspaper reading. Students, in grades four through eight, also learn various school subjects—from math and geography skills to goal-setting—all through following the Bulls in the sports pages, from October through May.

TeamUp

During the 1996-97 season, the NBA launched the NBA TeamUp program, a new community outreach initiative designed to maintain the League's long-standing commitment to youth and education. TeamUp promotes the importance of community service and recognizes young people who demonstrate a commitment to improving the quality of life in their communities. On a local level, the Bulls are working with West Side schools to implement TeamUp efforts, rewarding students who create and implement successful community service initiatives.

A.C.E.S (Athletes Committed to Educating Students)

In its third year in Chicago, A.C.E.S. is an after-school tutoring/mentoring program for Chicago Public School children who need additional support to reach their full academic potential. We're involved with A.C.E.S through a joint venture with Chicago's professional sports teams. The program begins with a new fourth grade class every year and follows each class through high school. Students attend weekly tutoring sessions and bi-monthly classroom sessions led by an athlete activity leader (from a local professional or college team) or a program coordinator.

NBA Reading Month

March is designated as NBA Reading Month. All 29 NBA teams, along with the League Office, are encouraged to host reading activities during this month. As part of the program, the Bulls host several "Reading Time-outs" and book distributions at local schools with Bulls personalities, and also conduct pre-game book exchanges with students and players. In addition, each team selects a player to serve on the "NBA All-Star Reading Team."

celebrating that comes
 straight from the heart.

One of the best times to give is the holiday season. When we focus our efforts on those who are truly needy, we can all better understand the true spirit of the season. We're proud of our community work—but at no time are we prouder than during the holidays.

Food Drives

"Help the Bulls Help the Homeless" echoes through the corridors of the United Center each December as we, in conjunction with the Mayor's Office of Special Events and the Chicago Anti-Hunger Federation, host an annual food drive. Nearly two tons of food are collected each holiday season and distributed to Chicago area food kitchens and shelters. Also, because hunger is a year-round issue, we host a Non-Holiday Food Drive each March with the Greater Chicago Food Depository.

Holiday Kids Party

Only a little holiday magic could produce a seven-foot elf. The Bulls become Santa's helpers, as we annually invite 200 underprivileged children to visit the team at their practice facility, the Berto Center, for a very special holiday celebration. Lunch and souvenirs are provided, as well as the opportunity to meet and spend time with the Bulls. Guests have included children from Lydia Home Association, Uhlich Children's Home, Centers for New Horizons, Daniel J. Nellum Youth Services and Hephzibah Children's Association. In addition, during the holiday season, the Bulls host several visits by players at local hospitals and children's homes.

Other Holiday Events

In conjunction with the NBA, the Bulls host various holiday events at schools in honor of Black History Month and the Martin Luther King Jr. Holiday. Along with school celebrations, both the Bulls and the NBA produce television and radio public service announcements commemorating Black History Month and the Martin Luther King, Jr. holiday.

offering something fun to see,
BASKETBALL GAMES and clinics
 something cool to do.

We've found we can engage kids, provide strong role models, teach the value of hard work and good health and entertain in the process by doing what we do best: playing basketball.

Charity Corporate Ticket Section Program

Compliments of the Chicago Bulls organization and nine corporate sponsors, more than 250 tickets are offered each game to local nonprofit groups so that underprivileged children and adults alike can experience the excitement of attending a Bulls game. In addition, the Return Ticket Program allows season ticket holders the opportunity to return tickets to the Bulls' front office that might otherwise go unused; in turn, these tickets are donated to schools and local charity organizations.

Bulls Basketball Schools

Introduced in the summer of 1999, the Chicago Bulls Basketball Schools are offered at nearly 100 sites throughout Illinois for kids ages 6-14. Former Bull Bobby Hansen is the executive director and teaches a shooting clinic at each session. Sessions run weekly from June through August and last for 3 1/2 hours per day. In partnership with the YMCA's of Metropolitan Chicago, the Bulls offer scholarships to the Basketball Schools. Of course, books and school are inseparable, so every child who attends the Bulls Basketball Schools is asked to participate in a literacy book drive and bring a new or hardly used children's book to donate.

Bulls Summer Basketball Clinics

Each summer, the Bulls host a series of free basketball clinics throughout the city and suburbs for hundreds of Chicagoland youngsters. Two Bulls players and/or coaches conduct each session and teach the fundamentals of the game. A highlight of each clinic is a message from the players stressing the importance of a positive lifestyle.

Chicago Bulls NBA 2ball

Chicago Bulls NBA 2ball is an exciting youth basketball skills program which focuses on teamwork and the development of core basketball skills for boys and girls ages 9-17. This skills competition is sponsored by each NBA team in its hometown, and is conducted at a grassroots level at local park districts and youth organizations. 2ball is played on a half-court marked by specific shooting locations that award different points based upon difficulty. The one-minute competition requires two players to accumulate points by alternately shooting from the different locations. Approximately 9,000 youngsters throughout Illinois participated in the Bulls' NBA 2ball program during 1999.

outreach

We have world championship fans and supporters. And we owe them quite a bit. To help support the great Chicagoland community that cheers us on and boosts our morale, we get involved. And we make things happen, for all kinds of good organizations and thousands of worthy Chicagoans.

Near West Side Community Relations

Since the 1994 opening of the United Center, the Bulls have made a special effort to help renovate our Near West Side community. This neighborhood, once known primarily as the site of Chicago's most devastating riots, is being revitalized. Just two blocks west of the United Center, CharitaBulls has built the James Jordan Boys & Girls Club, donated a "Computer Court" to the Mabel Manning Library and adopted Brown Elementary School, Herbert Elementary School and Best Practice High School. Just four blocks northwest of the United Center, the Bulls wives' organization, Team Mates, helped fund a health clinic at Suder Elementary School. It's one of the few health clinics in the nation located in an elementary school to serve the community as well as the students. Directly south of the United Center is Malcolm X College, where the Bulls and United Center have invested $1.6 million in educational and athletic programs. Through our ongoing partnerships with West Side political, religious, educational and community leaders, we have been able to play an integral role in the redevelopment of the neighborhood. As neighbors, we're proud to have accomplished a lot in a short time and we are committed to continuing the momentum.

United Center Community Economic Development Fund

One of the most ambitious undertakings of the Bulls and the United Center is the United Center Community Economic Development Fund, which was created in early 1995 to stimulate new business and create jobs. The United Center Joint Venture has set aside a $1 million fund for loans and grants to finance businesses that do not have access to capital through normal commercial channels, but that create jobs in the area where they're needed most.

Auction/Raffle Donations

Throughout the year, we contribute Bulls memorabilia to charity organizations, community fundraisers and school functions for use in auctions, raffles/door prizes and school incentive prizes. Hundreds of thousands of dollars are raised for local charities as a result. During the 1998-99 season, $245,000 was raised through in-kind donations of autographed memorabilia alone. But this figure does not include the funds raised for schools and local charities through thousands of daily in-kind donations of tickets and promotional items.

Wheelchair Bulls

The Chicago Bulls aren't the only game in town: the Bulls help sponsor one of the nation's best wheelchair teams, the Chicago Wheelchair Bulls. The Wheelchair Bulls devote their time to helping others realize that people in wheelchairs can and do lead active, productive lives. They participate in numerous charity games, perform at Bulls games and compete against other wheelchair teams on a national and international level. Four years ago, the Wheelchair Bulls created a Junior Wheelchair Bulls team.

Public Service Announcements (PSAs)

Our players have an extraordinary opportunity to reach out and make an impact on the community because of their great visibility as professional athletes. Throughout the year, Bulls players and coaches help nonprofit organizations promote their causes and services by appearing in public service announcements for both radio and television.

Team Mates: Chicago Bulls Wives' Organization

Team Mates is a philanthropic organization comprised of the wives of front office employees, announcers, coaches and Bulls players. Every year, Team Mates holds several fundraising events, including a holiday ornament sale. Last year, Team Mates donated funds to Children's Memorial Art Therapy Program, West Side Future, Chicago Abused Women Coalition, Gilda's Club, Chicago Commons and several others. In addition to local efforts, Team Mates also supports the NBA's national initiative, NBA Wives Save Lives, to encourage breast cancer awareness. As part of this program, Team Mates works with Rush-Presbyterian-St. Luke's Medical Center to help sponsor its annual Jazzercise® event, which supports breast cancer research.

Bob Love

Former Bull Bob Love, currently the Bulls' Director of Community Relations, is a popular motivational speaker. He is available free-of-charge to deliver his inspirational message about overcoming a speech handicap to schools and social service agencies. Love makes nearly 400 appearances every year at schools, charity events, clinics, nonprofit groups and youth programs.

Wish-Granting Foundations

There are few things as exciting or rewarding as seeing a child meet one of his or her heroes. The Chicago Bulls work closely with the Make-A-Wish and Starlight Foundations, both national charities that grant the wishes of chronically and terminally ill children. Each year, many of these children are brought to both home and away games to have their wishes granted and meet Bulls players.

As the Chicago Bulls enter their 33rd season in the NBA and fifth year at the United Center, the team appreciates the coverage and support from the media. We look forward to assisting you again this season. In an effort to provide a professional working environment, the Bulls have established the following guidelines for the 1999-2000 season:

Credentials:

We will honor all reasonable requests for credentials from recognized newspapers, magazines, radio and television outlets. The only season passes that will be honored at the United Center are Bulls season credentials and NBA season credentials. Each of those credentials will admit the bearer to the United Center, the upstairs press box, press row, press work room and both locker rooms. However, IN ORDER TO RESERVE SEATING, MEDIA MEMBERS HOLDING SEASON PASSES SHOULD NOTIFY THE BULLS OFFICE IF PLANNING TO COVER A GAME. Please make seating requests by 5 p.m. the day prior to the game. Individual single-game press and photo credentials can be secured for accredited media members by calling Bulls Media Services no later than 5 p.m. the day before a game (by 5 p.m. Friday for a weekend game). Single passes can be picked up at Gate 3 1/2 on the northeast corner of the United Center.

Credentials must be visibly worn in the United Center to facilitate proper access to designated areas. In all cases, season and single-game passes are non-transferable. Any unauthorized use will subject the bearer to ejection from the United Center and the forfeiture of the credential.

Press Work Room:

The press work room is located on the service level in the northwest corner of the United Center. A meal will be available in this area prior to every Bulls game. Working media with valid credentials will be allowed into the press work room. The work area is equipped with electrical outlets.

Services:

A pre-game meal will be available in the press work room. Prior to the game, the media will be provided with game notes and programs. All statistical services including play-by-play, quarter statistics, halftime and final box scores and post-game quotes will be distributed at press row and in the upstairs press box. Fax service is provided before, during and after the game by Tom Wiscarz.

Locker Room:

In accordance with NBA policy, the Bulls' and visitor's locker rooms will be open to the media up to 45 minutes before the game and 10 minutes after the end of the game. Only working media with a valid credential will be admitted to the locker rooms. The Bulls' locker room is located on the north end of the service level, while the visitor's locker room is located adjacent to the press work room.

Photographers:

Season passes will be issued to accredited photographers from large-circulation Chicagoland daily newspapers. Photographers from other newspapers or magazines wishing to work specific games must request single-game passes. Freelance photographers needing credentials must submit a letter indicating a specific assignment from a publication.

Post-Game Interviews:

Please be sure to list THREE choices for radio and television post-game interviews. This will ensure an interviewee in case the first choice is unavailable.

Autographs/Personal Cameras:

No autographs of players or coaches are allowed. No personal cameras are allowed.

United Center Building Information

Completed in 1994, the United Center cost $175 million and is 960,000 square feet in size. 3,500 tons of steel were used in the building - enough to build 28 life-sized replicas of the Statue of Liberty. 41,000 cubic yards of concrete were used in the building - enough to equal a five-foot wide sidewalk from the United Center to the Berto Center in Deerfield, Illinois. The scoreboard is as tall as a two-story building (20 feet), weighs nearly as much as 26 cars, and displays 175,000 different lights. The first public event at the United Center was the World Wrestling Federation SummerSlam, held on August 29, 1994. The building has 1,850 doors, 6,500 parking spaces, eight escalators, nine elevators and 50 public restrooms. The United Center has hosted over 700 events and 11,000,000 guests in just over four years.
